From The East

Greetings Brethren,

Over the last twenty years we have conducted far more Masonic Funerals than initiations. This is a trend that is not going to change anytime soon. Masonic membership is half of what it used to be at its height and based on the age of our average membership it will continue to rapidly drop over this next decade.

Acacias own membership was at 788 men when I joined in 1996. Of those men less than one hundred are alive today. With the merger of five additional lodges to Acacia our total membership is still only 400. Increasingly we will see our numbers decline. Like all fraternal organizations, we do not have new members joining at a rate that will compensate for the members lost to death.

I've often asked what will the future hold for Acacia? I have no way of knowing, but I look forward to the future with feelings of anticipation and excitement, mixed with apprehension. Increasingly we will have to do more with less. I believe the one year in, one year up profession of line officers will have to end, its simply not sustainable. The expectation of an officer progressing each year, will undoubtedly lead to mediocrity at best. Increasingly men will have to serve several years in a given station.

Mentors are desperately needed, but good mentors are in short supply. Simply telling an officer what he is doing wrong, is not mentoring. Fewer and fewer men amongst the Craft will mean that more often than not volunteers will be needed to fill in basic stations.

Finances are not a problem for Masonry, but appropriate financial decision will continue to be a concern. Building maintenance will be a burden; appropriate uses of our buildings will be a nagging question.

While these are all items that will be a challenge, they are also opportunities to reclaim our heritage or reinvent our future. While past mistakes have left a great deal of damage, I look forward to a future filled with potential promise.

Please be part of the discussion, and possible solutions. If you are able attend your lodge meetings and be active.

Lastly Brethren, please continue to keep in your prayers, our members who are ill, infirm, aged, and alone. If you are able, continue to reach out to them, either through visits, phone calls, letters, or even in just your good thoughts. Let's not go through this by ourselves, but instead let's be united to one another.

Fraternally,
Errol Savage

Need Help?

Do you know a Brother or a widow who needs assistance with aging in any way, please refer them to the Ohio Masonic Home Resource Center at 1-877-881-1623. It's a toll free call and they can connect him or her with the services they need.

From the Northeast Corner:

I would like to start off by sharing just one of the many reasons I am proud to be a member of Acacia Lodge. Acacia lodge has contributed to many wonderful Charities during this current year. Our Lodge has donated financial assistance to the Ohio Masonic home, sponsored a Special needs Olympian, Nurses On A Mission, Youth Baseball, Flood Relief, Grand Lodge of Ohio Scholarship fund, Grand Lodge of Ohio Charitable fund, multiple worthy Distressed Master Masons, and many others.

As a representative of one of the recipients of Acacia's generosity I would personally like to thank the brethren of Acacia Lodge on behalf of the Concord Youth Baseball League for providing a sponsorship for one of the 42 teams the League has this year. This sponsorship supports the local youth (age's 7 – 8 years old) and is a great way to get our name out to the public.

With that being said I will be coaching the team that will proudly wear "Acacia Lodge F&AM #651" on the backs of their jerseys, if anyone would like to attend any of the numinous games we have this season starting May 21st and continuing to July 1st please feel free to contact me. All the games will be held at Lamuth Middle School in Concord, Ohio. Please visit the baseball website, www.concordyouthbaseball.com for additional information. My contact information is listed below should you have any questions. Until next time my Brothers.

From without the inner door:

As Tyler, I have noticed a sharp decline in attendance over the past 12 months a lot of that is due to the age of our membership and I understand with inclement weather and the unending march of time all work to reduce attendance.

I'm calling upon all of our newer and younger members to participate, come enjoy the fraternal bonds of fellowship that we have for each other.

Help serve food, drive a member to a meeting, or take a more active role in the activities of the Lodge anything you can do will assist the lodge. But more importantly show up to our meetings, they are what keeps us together. There are enough younger members to have 20 to 40 men at each meeting, attending lodge in good numbers keeps everyone involved and makes the meeting more enjoyable.

Brother Jason R. Elliott, Tyler

For Those Who Don't Know Everything

A dime has 118 ridges around the edge.
A cat has 32 muscles in each ear.
A crocodile cannot stick out its tongue.
A dragonfly has a life span of 24 hours.
A goldfish has a memory span of three seconds.
{ I know a lot of people like that }
A "jiffy" is an actual unit of time for 1/100th of a second.

Brethren,

It's been a while since I last wrote; I'm in a position now where I need the lodge more than it needs me. Being in this position where I'm by myself, I cannot understand why a man that is alone in his home with no wife or children won't come to the lodge. Our wonderful secretary tells you in each publication that we will pick you up and you will be fed and informed on various subjects after every free meal.

My suggestion is that the members of our fraternity share some subjects of their life which he might believe to be of interest. Every person has a story or hobby that he could share with his lodge brothers. Most Speakers were professional and some non-masonic but even at that were interesting and well received.

I tried this in my Chapter of Royal Arch Masons years ago and it worked well. If you're interested, let our Worshipful Master know and let's get started.

Fraternally,
WB Tom Daly
